Bicentennial News

The Town of Kennebunk will be celebrating its Bicentennial this year in a few different ways, but the main celebration will take place downtown on Saturday, June 27, 2020. There will be a children's wagon parade, bouncy houses, a reenactor's encampment and more during the day. Additionally, there will be a community block party with boxed dinners, live music and more in the evening. As a result, there will be some road closures in the downtown area throughout the day and lasting into the evening.

Souvenir mugs, hats and glasses are currently for sale in the Town Clerk's office at the Town Hall. A special Bicentennial coin is also being created.

We will be seeking volunteers for all events. Volunteers will be the only ones to receive Bicentennial commemorative T-shirts!

We'll have more details in the coming weeks/months, so please keep an eye on the Town's Bicentennial Committee web page and on our Facebook page.
